

VOC Analyzers

The analyzers are chromatographic instruments consisting from absorption / absorption based concentrators, chromatographic columns and FID or PID detectors. To allow real continuous monitoring the instruments may be provided by three rotating concentrators.

While one of them is analyzed, the second one is plugged, the third one is in monitoring mode. FID detectors allow better stability and accuracy, while PID detectors have economic advantages.

