

Termographic Systems

Thermographic systems for installation in combustion chambers providing thermovision and processed thermographic screens presenting „the flame ball“ temperatures in pseudo colors.

The processed image allows to define „areas of interest“ to communicate with the plant's DCS systems. The cameras are water cooled with automatic refraction in case of a non sufficient cooling.

Special versions of these systems are dedicated to cement kiln applications. An other version is for hydrocracking furnaces with explosive area protection.